Our Core Competencies

ERP IMPLEMENTATION

Enterprise resource planning (ERP) solutions integrate key business and management processes, providing a high-level view of an organization's business. ERP integrates fragmented business operations, often replacing multiplicity of legacy systems in the process. The ERP opportunity for an organization lies in a fundamental change in business operations focused on the guts of an enterprise: channel management, supply chain optimization, demand forecasting and other operations that can maximize customer service levels, minimize inventory levels and control other costs. These guts applications can be dramatically changed by examining overall business processes, rethinking organizational authority and responsibilities, and selecting and implementing appropriate ERP applications to focus on these areas. CHC is an Oracle Partner with the ability, skills and experience to deliver implementation, development and support Oracle projects on time and within budget.

ERP is a business-critical issue for many companies. Getting it right is fundamental to their on-going success and profitability. Getting it wrong has far-reaching implications. Getting it wrong means missed due dates, cost overrun, and/or reduced scope or specifications. But among the failures are some cases of stopping implementations or complete abandonment of implementations. At CHC, we recognize that every project is different and requires a variety of dedicated skills and support as the case for GoL (Government of Lesotho) project. Our industry expertise cuts across all sectors of the economy. We help clients build, integrate and support mission-critical systems for real-time enterprises. We also implement custom developed applications.

Our capabilities include:

- Functional and technical knowledge of leading ERP Applications and especially in the following Oracle Applications:
 - Oracle Financials
 - Assets

- Oracle Governance, Risk and Compliance (GRC)
 - Applications Access Control Governor (AACG)
 - Transactions Control Governor (TCG)
 - Configurations Control Governor (CCG)

- Expertise in all types of projects (Implementations, Upgrades, Customizations, Integrations)
- Project Managers with 10+ years' experience in managing IT projects and with full-life-cycle ERP implementations in multifaceted engagements and complex environments
- Consultants with rich functional experience with one or more ERP implementations
- Proven implementation, customization, interfacing, migration and integration methodology
- Vertical industry specific services
- Industry-wide reputation for cost-effective and high-quality Production support and Maintenance

ORACLE QUALITY ASSURANCE

“Quality assurance” is an integrated system of management Quality assurance, or QA for short, is also known as ‘peer review’, ‘quality improvement’, ‘quality activities’ and ‘quality studies. It is the process of verifying or determining whether products or services meet or exceed customer expectations. In an attempt to ensure our QA for GoL implementation is fit for purpose and in line with contractual agreement, right first time, investment justifiable and complies with best practice will involve activities in planning, implementation, documentation, and assessment, reporting and quality improvement. In specific terms, CHC, as a QA Consultant will perform the following functions on any project:

At CHC, our partnership with Oracle University gives us the leverage to offer both Oracle Functional and Technical Training for End Users, Super Users and Implementation Consultants to meet the ever-increasing demand for these resources. Our training curriculum focuses on how to setup, implement, administer, customize and extend ERP applications which will help GoL achieve quick return on investment. Our training highlights are:

ePrentise ORACLE TRANSFORMATION

With ePrentise, whether the entities are charts of accounts, calendars, legal entities, business groups, other operating units, or entire EBS instances, ePrentise determines the gaps between the source and the target through its proprietary mining process and then automatically generates the code to resolve the differences by adding or changing database objects, reconciling duplicates, changing configuration data (flexfields, organization units, product IDs, etc.), standardizing using a built-in rules-based knowledge repository, or filtering data based on any number of criteria. Because the software understands the data relationships, changes are permeated throughout the database. Companies do not have to do a time-consuming, resource-intensive reimplementation to accommodate business changes like mergers, acquisitions, or divestitures to adapt to new technologies (such as subledger accounting or Multi Org Access Control), or to change EBS setups that the company has outgrown. ePrentise software enables changes to take place in months with very few technical resources. It increases efficiency reducing project timelines, costs, and improving accuracy of outcomes. Its rules-based system with comprehensive knowledge repository.
